CASELLA
MAURER

The First Congregational Church of Williamstown, Massachusetts. Organized by the Proprietors of the Town in 1765. The present structure is the third meetinghouse used since the organization. It is considered by many authorities to be a perfect example of New England colonial church architecture.

From a watercolor painting by Sascha Maurer

Pub. by NATCO, Natural Color Cards Co.,
Ridgefield Park, N. J.
1367B

Genuine Natural Color Made By DEXTER PRESS, Inc., West Nyack, N. Y.

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

POST CARD